Our grateful thanks go to the authorities at St Mary's for providing us with such a lovely venue. Particular thanks to Stuart Crippen for his help with the arrangements and publicity.

Tamesis Chamber Choir aims to offer something different from the choirs currently performing in the area. We are a high-standard, fun chamber choir performing several concerts per year. We re-audition formally each September so if you are interested in singing with us, please contact Louise on 0118 931 4279 or lourap@yahoo.com.

Louise Rapple has been a musician from a young age, learning piano from six and singing in a Church choir from seven. She studied Music and French at Reading University, specialising in performance and graduating in 1998. She studied conducting at the Conservatoire de Pau in southern France during her year abroad, and returned to the UK to direct the Reading University Singers for two years. She is currently Organist and Choir Director at Christ Church, Reading. She's been dreaming of directing a choir like Tamesis for some years and is thrilled with the reality.

Notes on the programme

Tonight, tonight... we start with some ever-popular Gershwin. Our choral selection of songs comes from the 1992 show Crazy for You which, although not strictly by the Gershwin brothers, is based on the plot of the earlier musical Girl Crazy and takes its songs from the whole range of Gershwin musicals. I got rhythm and But not for me were both originally written for Girl Crazy (1930), while Someone to watch... is from Oh Kay! (1926), Nice work if you can get it from A Damsel in Distress (1937), and They can't take that away from me from Shall we Dance?, also 1937. The man I love, meanwhile, is from Lady, be Good! written in 1924. The chorus of the song was originally the verse, but Gershwin decided he preferred it to the original refrain and so turned it into the chorus and wrote a new verse to go with it!

Dizzy Gillespie (so-called for this comical stage antics) is well-known as one of the greatest jazz trumpeters of the twentieth-century. He was born in 1917 and died only 12 years ago in 1993. As well as being an unforgettable performer, Dizzy was also a composer and an arranger, and wrote some of the greatest jazz tunes of his era.

Now we come on to the man who dominates the rest of our programme this evening - Oscar Hammerstein II. Born in 1895, he came from a very theatrical family. He started writing lyrics while studying law at Columbia University and there he met Richard Rodgers, a composer with whom he was to collaborate for the rest of his life. Before embarking on an exclusive contract with Rodgers, however, Hammerstein partnered various other composers, including writing eight musicals with Jerome Kern, of which Showboat was their masterwork. The musical follows the lives and loves of three generations of show folk, on the Mississippi, in Chicago and on Broadway, between 1880 and 1927.

The Rodgers and Hammerstein partnership began in 1943, and produced many of the most famous musicals performed today, including Oklahoma!, South Pacific, The King and I, Carousel and The Sound of Music. South Pacific, from which Bali Ha'i is taken, is set during WWII on a tranquil Pacific island, and deals with the theme of prejudice versus love. Carousel is said to be Rodgers and Hammerstein's favourite of all their shows, and again deals with the power of love, this time its ability to change and heal. You'll never walk alone has of course gained notoriety in England, made famous by Gerry and the Pacemakers in the sixties and consequently adopted by Liverpool FC as their anthem. I was horrified to discover when researching these programme notes that many websites seem to think Gerry and the Pacemakers actually wrote the song!

The Sound of Music, written in 1959, was the last musical Hammerstein wrote before his death in 1960. Made into a film in 1965, it follows the story of Maria, a nun who leaves her convent to become a governess to a Naval officer's troop of children. I won't go any further with this story, as the film is such a classic that I'm sure you all know the plot and can sing along!

Sweet Charity premiered on Broadway in 1966 and tells the story of Charity Hope Valentine, a dancer who has no luck with men. The most famous song from this musical is in fact 'Big Spender' but we give you the much more fun Rhythm of Life! From which we slip back slightly to the fifties with Grease, a show full of very well-known songs (some of these will take you right back to school discos...) which follows the friendships, romances and adventures of a group of highschool friends. Immortalised in film by John Travolta and Olivia Newton-John in 1978, the musical premiered in 1972 and has been a classic ever since.

And finally, to West Side Story, in which Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet become Tony and Maria, teenagers from rival New York gangs in the sixties. With its great swooping musical lines and clever lyrics I think this has to be my favourite of our 'Songs from the Shows'!
