

Louise read Music and French at Reading University, specialising in performance. She studied conducting at the Conservatoire de Pau in France during her year abroad, and returned to direct the Reading University Singers for two years.

Having graduated, Louise spent seven years in Church music as organist at two Berkshire Churches. She founded Tamesis in 2003. She also directs Tamesis Cathedral Singers, an occasional choir which sings Cathedral Evensongs twice a year. She is in demand locally as a deputy conductor, and enjoys the challenge of stepping in when other choir directors are indisposed.

Louise works full-time at Shiplake College as a musician, teacher and administrator. As part of her work there she runs the College Chamber Choir and Shiplake Community Choir, a choir for singers of all ages and abilities, singing a mainly popular repertoire. She is a regular panellist on Radio Berkshire, where she tries her hardest to appear both cultured and funny, not always succeeding. Last year she started a new Community Choir in the village of Hagbourne in South Oxfordshire, which is so far proving to be a great success. Do get in touch if you are interested in joining any of Louise's choirs!

Judith Creighton has been playing the piano for as long as she can remember and studied Music and German at the University of Southampton where she specialised in piano accompaniment. She has gone on to work with numerous soloists and choirs, as well as working as a cocktail pianist. Judith currently teaches piano and accompanies several local choirs for rehearsals and concerts, including Shiplake and Hagbourne Community Choirs, also directed by Louise. She first got involved with Tamesis in 2006 when she was asked to play for 'Captain Noah and his Amazing Floating Zoo' and she has played for them regularly ever since. She loves playing the piano for musicals, highlights including 'West Side Story' at the Hexagon and 'Into the Woods'. She also plays for Classical Ballet exams and is always up for the next accompanying challenge!

Tamesis Chamber Choir aims to offer something different from other choirs in the area. We are a high-standard, fun chamber choir performing several concerts per year. We re-auditition formally each September but do sometimes have vacancies during the year, so if you are interested in singing with us, contact Louise on 0118 931 4279 or email lourap@gmail.com.
